WHAT DO YOU NEED TO DO?

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

We've made everything easier.

We curate the content

Each learner gets a pathway of compliance content suited to their needs.

We apply our award-winning learning design

Our concise units fit around busy schedules and units are taken over time, so learning is progressive. Each unit has one learning outcome so we can measure success.

We make reporting easy

Click and print: get completion rates and a whole lot more to show the impact of the learning.

We help you stay compliant and protected

Our sub-10 product monitors learning performance and pushes new units into a learner's pathway to address knowledge gaps.

It's not just easier to use,
learners want to do it...

AND...

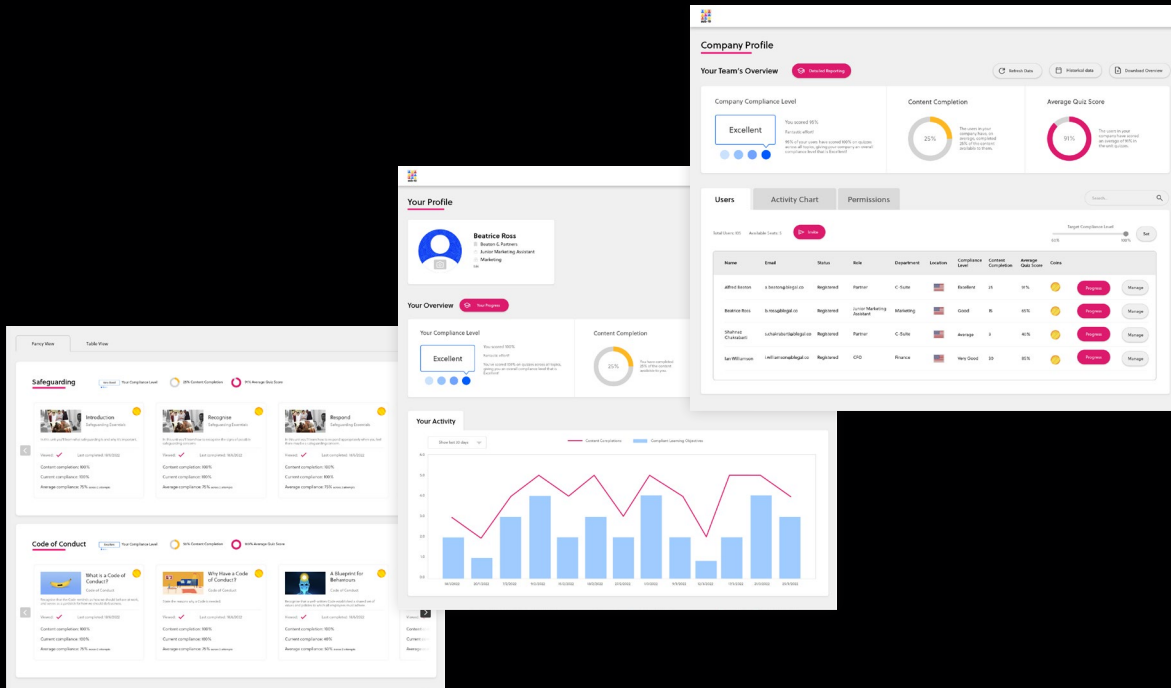

Our compliance learning units use engaging, emotive design...

AI platform delivers what you need, when you need it.

BUT!

Don't just take our word
for it...

The training is a very enjoyable experience and an exciting new way of learning.

{ sub-10 provides easy, bite-sized training that makes it difficult to justify 'putting it off'.

Each unit is short, informative, and interactive, and their focus on compliance needs is a massive help to professional businesses. }

WHAT ARE OUR CUSTOMERS SAYING ABOUT US?

The shorter unit design received fantastic feedback and has been emulated now by multiple other internal initiatives, recognising the forward-thinking approach taken.

The emotive content design and storytelling struck a successful chord with our colleagues as demonstrated through our monitoring of learner sentiment.

And we have a clearly constructed narrative now for the first time between all our mandatory compliance learning.

This means we can deploy entire curriculums or individual units, and learners immediately know the critical context in which the learning sits.

I always complete any new training before I distribute out to my wider team to 'test' the suitability, content, new learning opportunity and timescales of the learning.

Safeguarding Essential training is great in that it is broken down into separate bitesize learning units – Introduction, Recognise, Respond and Refer. The training is very up to date, thought provoking and really brings to life some of the key safeguarding issues of today.

Without hesitation, I distributed out to the wider team to complete and all team members commented on how the separate units really made them think about how to handle different potential safeguarding issues.

Great responsive, up to date and bite size training!
